

Community Engagement policy

Wolf Gold has an active Community Engagement Policy and program which we are constantly updating and developing as our projects grow and develop.

As a matter of good practice, we abide by and try to exceed the Victoria Code of Practice for Mineral Exploration which is available via this link. Under section 39 of the MRSD Act, all licensees have a duty to consult with the community throughout the period of their licence.

Wolf Gold is committed to economically and environmentally viable exploration and mining that meets the requirements of the Code of Practice and all Government standards. We are committed to delivering sustainable outcomes for our shareholders and the local communities in which we operate.

To quote from the Victorian Code of Practice, good consultation includes:

- Identifying relevant stakeholders including community, government authorities and employees.
- Identifying the potential impacts of exploration activities on relevant stakeholders.
- Establishing clear, open and ongoing channels of communication with all relevant stakeholders and ensuring they are aware of any real and potential impacts.
- Responding to stakeholder concerns in a timely, transparent and effective manner.
- Establishing stakeholder feedback mechanisms and demonstrating how feedback contributes to decision making.
- Respecting the rights, cultural beliefs and concerns of all parties having an interest in the land (and waters) within and surrounding the exploration project area.
- Enlisting local knowledge and relevant authorities in the design of the exploration works.

Wolf Gold knows that trust is paramount to dealing with our stakeholders, whether it be the local communities in which we operate or Government regulators, we are honest, open and transparent in all our dealings.
